

international and regional bodies and donors/financial institutions to identify opportunities in securing project financing for pollution reduction; d) Contribute to the replication of good environmental studies, economics or related area is required. A first-level university degree